HOUSE OF OCCUPATIONS.

REPORT.

To the Right Worshipful the PRESIDENT, the Worshipful the TREASURER, and the GOVERNORS of the Royal Hospital of Bridewell.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

I believe that this will be found to be the most satisfactory Report ever presented to you, concerning the state and progress of your House of Occupations.

During the year 1859, there were Admitted.		Discharged.

Boys	149	Boys	167
Girls	59	Girls	71
Total	208	Total	238

In consequence of the great number of both sexes who have been provided with situations, the number of inmates left in the House on the 31st of December, was somewhat below the average. There were

Boys	89
Girls..	85
Total..	174

The applications for admission have been very numerous, and the character of the House of Occupations, as an Institution for the prevention of crime, rather than for the reformation of juvenile criminals, has been carefully maintained. The greater number of children admitted, were those, who from destitution and parental neglect, would have been under great temptation to commit crime, had they not received the shelter of the House. A few have, however, been admitted from the City Prison at Holloway, and from the Westminster House of Correction, on the recommendation of the Chaplains and Governors. Fifteen boys, and one girl were received from the Field Lane Ragged School and Refuge, on the application of the manager of that admirable institution. These children were wholly destitute and friendless, and have shewn themselves most grateful for the home we have given them; on the whole, I consider them the most satisfactory cases we have had to deal with.

The conduct of the inmates has been generally exceedingly good. None have been expelled for incorrigible faults, and not a single boy or girl has absconded. I believe this is the first time that such a fact has been recorded in the Annual Report.

It will be seen that I have again been very successful in obtaining appointments for the boys in the Royal Navy, no less than 88 having been disposed of in this most desirable manner. And I am gratified in being able to state, that I consider this may be attributed in a great measure to the good conduct of those who have entered the Navy from the School in former years. In consequence of the great number of boys who apply for admission into the service from all parts of the country, the officers with whom the duty of entry is entrusted, have a wide choice, and exercise the greatest care and circumspection in ascertaining that the successful candidates are in all respects fit for Her Majesty's service; indeed, I have never known the authorities to be so particular in their selection as they have been during the last twelve months. I am satisfied, therefore, that so many appointments would not have been placed at my disposal, if our boys had not, as a rule, maintained a good reputation. To this I may add the direct testimony of a Captain, who has kindly taken 47 from the School during the last two years. He lately wrote to me as follows :—"We have had no better boys than those sent from your School, since I have been in command of this ship, during which time upwards of 400 from all parts of England have been entered and passed on to other ships." I may further mention, as an interesting fact, that nine of our boys are now serving on board H.M.S. Euryalus, with H.R.H. the Prince Alfred.

I have to thank the Committee for having adopted my suggestion for the introduction into the School of military drill and exercise. Kept within proper bounds, these conduce to order in the School, and give a more manly bearing and better muscular development to the boys. In the place of an Assistant Schoolmaster, we have now a Resident Band-master and Drill-Sergeant, who formerly held a similar appointment in the Royal Military Asylum at Chelsea. Twenty boys now receive instruction in the drum and fife, and this has opened a new field of employment of which advantage has been taken. Already I have been enabled to place 19 boys in the Bands of the Coldstream Guards, and the 8th, 75th, 84th, and 91st Regiments of the Line; and I have received applications from the Commanding-Officers of other Regiments, that I am not at present able to supply. The boys are enlisted for 10 years, and I have satisfied myself by ocular proof, having visited them all, that they are as well taken care of, and looked after, as they would be in any school. They all express themselves perfectly happy and contented, and are certainly better clothed and fed than they would have been if apprenticed to trades. They receive daily educational instruction in the regimental schools, and the officers take a warm interest in their welfare; their pay is 9*d.* per diem. Having thus supplied the two services, the Army and the Navy, with 107 recruits, I think the Governors may congratulate themselves on having made a very tolerable contribution to the "national defences" of our country.

We have lost one boy by death. Four months after his admission, he was attacked with inflammation on the lungs, and was only ill one week before he sank under the disease. I had the melancholy satisfaction of administering religious consolation to him daily during his short illness, and was with him when he died. May I hope that my ministrations to him are now bearing fruit in a better and happier state!

The whole number of males discharged may thus be stated—

To the Royal Navy	88
To the Army (Regimental Bands)	19
To the Merchant Sea Service	23
To Situations in Trades	20
Discharged at own and Friends' request ..	14
Sent home ill	2
Died	1
	167

The girls who have left us during the last year, have been disposed of thus—

To Situations as Domestic Servants	56
Discharged at own and Friends' request ..	11
Sent home ill	4
	71

Of the females sent to situations, 48 still retain the places provided for them by the Matron, and we have most satisfactory accounts of their behaviour. One has since emigrated to Australia; seven have left their situations, but as far as we know, with one exception have not relapsed into evil courses.

You will be gratified to observe the large number of former inmates who have attended the Committee with good conduct certificates, and received the rewards to which they were, through your liberality, entitled. No less than seventy-eight boys, and twenty-eight girls, were rewarded for the first time; thirty-five boys, and eleven girls, for the second time; and twenty boys, and two girls, for the third time; making a total of one hundred and seventy-four. There can be no better proof than this of the permanent good effected in their characters.

In taking a retrospective view of my labours during the past year, I cannot but feel deeply thankful to Almighty God, for the great improvement that has taken place in the general conduct of the inmates. I trust that their "perseverance in well doing," will show that this emanates not from mere outward reformation, but, in many cases, from an inward change. I have endeavoured to carry on my work on the fundamental principle, that the love of God and the knowledge of His will as revealed in the Holy Scriptures, should be the groundwork of all education and moral training. By persevering in this course, I would reverently hope, that with God's continued blessing on the means employed, many will be found to have been trained in the House of Occupations, not only to be good citizens of earth, but to be inhabitants also of "that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

I beg also to acknowledge most thankfully the sympathy, kindness, and encouragement, I have received from every Governor of the Royal Hospitals with whom I have been brought into contact.

I remain,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

EDWARD RUDGE,

Chaplain and Superintendent.

BETHLEM HOSPITAL.

REPORT.

To the Right Worshipful the PRESIDENT, the Worshipful the TREASURER, and the GOVERNORS of the Royal Hospital of Bethlem.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

Another year having elapsed, I have again to lay before you a Report of the passing events in the Hospital during that period, and to furnish you with the usual Statistical Tables, which I trust you will find drawn up with clearness and accuracy.

During the year 1859, two hundred and fourteen patients were admitted, two hundred and three were discharged, and sixteen died.

As compared with the year 1858, there was a decrease of 39 in the number of admissions, an increase of 19 in the number of discharges, and a decrease of 1 in the mortality.

On the 1st of January of the present year, 322 patients remained in the Hospital, arranged according to the following classification :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Curable ..	44	75	119
Incurable ..	38	37	75
Criminal ..	113	15	128
Total.. ..	195	127	322

The 214 patients admitted were as follows :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Curable ..	58	100	158
Incurable ..	1	5	6
Criminal ..	48	2	50
Total.. ..	107	107	214

The 203 patients discharged were :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Cured..	46	65	111
Uncured	27	55	82
For special reasons	4	6	10
Total.. ..	77	126	203

Thirty-nine patients were removed from the Criminal Establishment to Fisherton House Salisbury, to make accommodation for others whose removal from Prison to a Lunatic Hospital was considered necessary. Two Male Criminal Patients made their escape, and have not since been heard of.

Sixteen patients died during the year.

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Curable ..	7	3	10
Incurable ..	—	3	3
Criminal ..	3	—	3
Total.. ..	10	6	1

A glance at the preceding figures will, it is hoped, satisfy all that much has been done which deserves thankfulness, and that the great and charitable objects of the Institution have neither been lost sight of nor neglected. To many, who, from their warm interest in the Hospital are led to look with anxiety for the results of the past year, it may be gratifying to learn that the per centage of cures upon the number of admissions stands at 66 per cent., the largest ever recorded; but without any wish to check such satisfaction—indeed, if I may say, from a desire to place this annual balancing of our accounts on a right and satisfactory footing—I would solicit a moment's hesitation before judging of the past, or anticipating for the future, by the present return. The annual per centage is but a meagre—often a very false—criterion, of the continual outpouring of charitable aid rendered by this Institution; the record of cures actually effected, although gratifying in proportion to their number, is but a circumscribed evidence of its usefulness, which must not be valued by the ebb and flow of medical success, or the thousand unforeseen circumstances which in the course of twelve months may affect the rise or fall of the statistical barometer. The mean average of a number of years will alone show, if comparison is required, whether we are before or behind our predecessors in success; a conscientious desire and hearty exertion on our part will alone shield us from inferiority. With this view the following Table has been prepared, and although some years appear to yield us less credit than others, it will show more forcibly than words, that by dividing the last forty years into four decennial periods, the per centage of cures has gradually increased.

The Table shows that—

From 1820 to 1829 inclusive, the cures were 46 per cent.

A considerable decrease in the number of admissions must be recognized. I do not for one moment believe that this results from any want of appreciation of the benefits offered by the Hospital, but rather that under existing circumstances the supply is greater than the demand. Public Asylums have sprung up in every county, in some instances in each division of the county, and Private Asylums, formerly licensed only for pauper lunatics, are now willing, because deprived of their original patients, to receive patients of the middle class on terms very little above those usually charged for paupers. In another large Metropolitan Hospital for the Insane, a similar decrease in the number of admissions has occurred, and to some extent still remains, although as an inducement to those who shrink from the receipt of entirely gratuitous relief, the privilege of admission has been offered to such on the payment of a small amount, as some remuneration for the benefits received. When in the course of a short time, by the removal of the criminal lunatics from Bethlem, there will be accommodation for an increased number of other patients, the Governors may think it right to recommend some alteration either in the qualifications for admission or period of residence. It must, however, as circumstances at present exist, be a matter of gratification to every benevolent person to know that during the past year 158 poor insane have been received under our care, of whom 63 have already been restored to their families, and with little doubt 39 others may be placed in the same happy position within a short time.

Table XVIII. records the admission of Governesses,

Clergymen, Medical Men, Clerks, and Mechanics. To each of these the association in a County Asylum would have been painful, and the recollection of the acquirement of pauperism necessary before their admission into it, would have remained when their hearts were filled with lively gratitude for returning mental health. In Bethlem such feelings are spared them: and on leaving these gates they return to their families, their neighbourhood, and their occupation, with their small savings untouched, their social pride unabashed, their gratitude unalloyed.

Anticipations were held out in my last Report that the clemency of the Crown would be granted to some of the Female Criminal Patients whose period of confinement had extended over a considerable period, and who were restored to sanity. This hope has been realized during the year. In some cases the discharges have been attended with the happiest results: mothers have been restored to their children, and wives to their husbands; but in others the removal from the Hospital has been to change the comfort of the ward for the ill-lighted, badly-ventilated, and cheerless lodging; or the liberality of the domestic arrangements of the Hospital for the less bountiful fare and scanty wardrobe of the workhouse. Seven Male Criminal Patients during the past year received their pardon and discharge. This consideration has been extended to those who had been acquitted of the consequences of murder, or attempt to murder, on the ground of insanity, and it is not improbable the number of cases may be further increased. Grave responsibility rests with those who petition, those who report, and those who decide in these cases; and there are, doubtless, many who would shrink with horror at the thought, that any who had once shed human blood, whether in a state of sanity or insanity, should be again free to act and wander at will. This fear is not likely to be diminished by the knowledge of the liability to relapse in mental disease, when again exposed to the same exciting causes, even though convalescence may have continued over a long period, while under the care and surveillance of an asylum; but on the other hand, ought the sane to be compelled to live in the constant company of lunatics? Ought the educated and refined to be shamed and irritated by the language and conduct of the debased? Is not the safety of the public, and the impossibility of a repetition of the tragedy, all that the law is called upon to secure? It is not unlikely that this opinion is shared in by those in authority, and that in the State Lunatic Asylum, which is rapidly advancing to completion, such desirable classification will be provided, as will remedy the many existing difficulties, and render less tedious and prison-like the life of those, whose future freedom is sacrificed by the perpetration of some homicidal act, from the legal consequences of which their mental state has screened them.

During the past year two male patients, both inmates of the Criminal Establishment made their escape, and every endeavour to retake them has been without success; fortunately neither had been guilty of any grave offence, so that much alarm and anxiety was spared. One man was a native of Trieste, and it is supposed made his way to some ship which would return him to his own country.

The Chaplain has with Christian benevolence instituted Weekly Bible Classes in the male and female Criminal Establishments; and not only gives all who are willing to attend his ministrations the consolations of religion, but instructs those who are ignorant, and by shedding some light into their dark souls endeavours to make them moral as well as wiser men.

The privilege of walking beyond the grounds of the Hospital continues to be enjoyed by both male and female patients; scarcely a day passes on which two or three parties do not pass the gates for exercise or sight-seeing under charge of their attendants. We feel thankful to state that on no occasion has the privilege been abused, or discredit brought on the party by the misconduct of any individual member. Only on one occasion have any failed to return at the specified hour, and this omission was so natural that it merited no rebuke: a mother yearned to see her only child, crossing the street a cabman hailed her, the temptation was too great, the opportunity might not return; she evaded the attention of the nurse for a moment, sufficient to jump into the cab; her absence was detected immediately, but search was in vain, for the cab was driving fast to the home of her child; contrary to her fears she found the child in good health, and readily returned to the hospital when requested to do so by the nurse who had been sent for her, regretting the trouble and anxiety she had caused.

The evening amusements are as much thought of, and anticipated with the same character of pleasure, as seven years since, when they were first introduced. The preparation for each monthly party, and the recollection of it when past, form subjects of thought and interest to many. We are usually assisted in the music by some patient, who, though herself discharged "well," does not forget that she can by her presence offer encouragement and pleasure to others, to whom Providence may have been less gracious.

The convivial meetings, though simple in their entertainment, are cheering to many who feel themselves separated from their families, and all they hold dear; while not unfrequently they kindle a spark of life almost unknown in the apathetic career of the demented. A singular instance of this occurred at our last Christmas gathering. One of the officers kindly undertook to perform some acts of legerdemain. Among the party was one who had not spoken nor taken any interest in passing events for nearly four years. His dull life had been passed in mere vegetation, and his tongue only gave utterance to a few mumbling oaths when opposed in any of his wishes. On entering the room, he took his seat with the others, but not before he had scrutinized the gentleman, and expressed satisfaction with the disguise he had adopted; he followed with close interest all the tricks,—detected some, admired the dexterity in others,—and ended the evening with drinking a glass of wine from the "Wizard's Bottle," to the health of the Queen. Much of this mental sunshine was transient, but some improvement upon the dull past is hoped for. The following morning the idiotic man was sweeping his ward; each week a trifling advance may be noticed sufficient to alter the previous prognostics, and stamp the case as one which may, within the range of possibility, some day be cured.

No great change has been effected in the building itself during the past year. The new kitchens have been found convenient and satisfactory, and the amount of store room accommodation commodious. A trifling alteration in the engineers' shop, now in progress, will make the offices all we can desire; the opinion of visitors, both expressed and reported, is perhaps the most satisfactory testimony of the complete arrangements in the wards. It may be, that no Lunatic Hospital should be situated in or near London; this can only be an opinion to which I think 66 per cent. discharged cured is the best reply. If the position of Bethlehem Hospital is not objected to, I cannot see that there is a deficiency of anything, within reason, that a liberal heart can dictate, or money provide.

I have now only to thank Governors, colleagues, and assistants, for all the aid they have rendered me; and while recording the fact, that another year has past without accident or hurt to any one, I desire to recognize the assistance I have received, and trust that God will still bless our efforts.

I have the honor to be,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Your very obedient Servant,

W. CHARLES HOOD.

The Hospital is repaid by Government, on account of Criminal Lunatics the wages of ten male and two female attendants, with an allowance of £35. per annum each for maintenance and clothing.

The wages of male attendants commence at £25. per annum, and they increase, if their conduct be satisfactory, £1. yearly afterwards, until they become £35. per annum, after which no further increase is allowed. Attendants in charge of a Ward are allowed £5. per annum extra. Female attendants commence at any amount not exceeding £18. per annum, and after, they increase with like restriction £1. yearly, until they become £25. per annum, after which no further increase is allowed. The wages of male attendants were permitted, previous to the year 1841, to increase to £60. per annum.
